"I am Second Ave., Aurora, Ill. 'Gentlemen: I have been suffering from Consumption for over two years, and I wanted to see if I would be cured. I can now truthfully say I am perfectly well. Since a child of two years I have been alling with lung troubles, which grew worse as I grew older. At the age of fourteen the doctor said I could not be cured. I will answer all letters sent to me, asking a history of my case, from any one suffering from lung trouble." (Signed Affidavit) ETTA PLATH. Three years later reports still well. Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in rebuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. For sale by C. O. HOW THE JAPANESE
ALWAYS REMAIN SLENDER
NO ONE NEED REMAIN FAT NOW

TRAVELER AND SCIENTIST DISCOVERS LONG SOUGHT SECRET. RE-VEALS HIS OWN WEIGHT 100 POUNDS WITHOUT A SINGLE DROP OF FAT. AFTER ALL, ADVANCED REMEDIES HAD FAILED ABSOLUTELY.

How to Reduce Fat One Pound a Day and Then Always Remain Slim. No Drugs, Medicines, Starvation Diet, Exercise, or Apparatus Used. Simple Home Treatment Works Wonders.

Arrangements Now Made to Have All Stout Readers of This Paper Receive a Free Copy of Dr. Turner's Wonderful Book "How I Reduced My Weight 100 Pounds."

In an interview accorded upon his return from a long trip, Dr. F. Turner, the physician, scientist and traveler widely known for his scientific researches, and whose writings have brought him international reputation, gave some valuable information to those who were astounded by his loss of more than 100 pounds of excessive fat since they last saw him. He found it difficult, indeed, to recognize in the slender, muscular and perfectly proportioned form of Dr. Turner to-day, the same man whom only a few months previously they knew as a semi-invalid, so enormously fat that he could hardly walk.

When questioned concerning his health and the remarkable change in his appearance, Dr. Turner said:

"My discovery came about during my trip to Japan. When seeing data for some literary work, I found a reference to the manner in which the Japanese were eating. I was very much interested to take on superfluous flesh. It was a parent from observation that the Japs are comparatively heavy eaters and that their diet consists largely of rice, the most starchy and therefore the most fat forming of all grains. I had often noticed the diet of the natives of Japan, both men and women, always present such a slender, trim, neat appearance. Although corsets are rare in that country, the women there have been found to be any American woman might well envy, and the Japanese men have strength and power of endurance that are proverbial. After diligent inquiry about the cause of this, I became more than ever convinced that they were using there in Japan, methods of fat reduction and fat prevention far in advance of anything known to medical science in this country. As the finding of such a method was a matter of life or death to me at that time, I consulted numerous authorities and set about asking questions of those who would be likely to know anything about it. I am glad to say that my untiring efforts were finally rewarded by the discovery of a new means of fat reduction. I was inclined to give a short trial immediately. I was glad to say that I beheld the wonderful change it made in my appearance, and the improvement in my health, that was noticeable from the very first. My fat began to vanish at the rate of one pound a day, sometimes more, I knew that I had at last discovered the secret that I had been vainly sought for years, and I continued the treatment until I had lost more than 100 pounds in weight. I was strong and healthy with every pound I lost, and soon regained all my old time vigor of body and mind. It made me feel twenty years younger and was rid of all the fat that had formed inside and outside of my body. After discontinuing the treatment and keeping a careful record of my weight for more than two months, I was delighted to find that reduction was permanent, nor has all my fat shown the slightest tendency to return since then."

Dr. Turner then went on to explain the treatment he discovered, and while any one must admit that it is a highly logical method and undoubtedly effective to a wonderful degree, yet it is so simple that even a child can understand it and obtain most satisfactory results. Surely, in view of all these proven facts, no stout person need any longer feel that he or she must remain fat. Lack of space prevents a full description of the entire method here, but Dr. Turner has described it in a handsome booklet entitled "How I Reduced My Weight 100 Pounds," and by special arrangement with the Doctor we are able to announce that these valuable booklets, while they last, are to be distributed absolutely free to those of our readers who are sufficiently interested to send a two-cent stamp for postage.

The books are sent in plain wrapping and we are told that there are only about 1,000 of the last edition left. When these are gone the Doctor may not have any more printed, as he says that extensive business and professional interests will demand all his time from now on, and also he may depart on another long trip. He therefore will probably have no time to give the material personal attention again for several months at least. He, therefore, will not promise us to send the books to any reader who does not write him immediately. The 151st C. Clark Building, New York, Suite 1212, requests sent there during the next few weeks will be given prompt attention. We would strongly advise all our stout readers to obtain this wonderful book and learn how to beat immediate reduction of their weight, as such an auspicious opportunity as this offer is made for the special benefit of Richmond Times-Dispatch readers, and to receive one of the books entirely free of cost be sure to send the following coupon.

THE RIGHT KIND OF IMMIGRATIONA Bohemian Settlement That Has Proven a Blessing to a State.IDLE LAND MADE PRODUCTIVE
An Experience Out West That
Virginians May Well Take Note Of.

BY W. J. LAUCK.

The Northern European immigrant farmer in the United States has a history almost as long as the country itself. Germans, Norwegians, Swedes, and representatives of other races of Northern Europe have become prosperous farmers in the West, Northwest and Southwest, their children have become thoroughly Americanized, and are found engaged at the present time in agricultural, business and professional pursuits. As a rule they have become so thoroughly Americanized that it is difficult to distinguish them from the native American population. A further study of this immigration subject should be of deep interest to Virginia farmers and Virginia people engaged in industrial pursuits.

In the case of the southern and eastern European immigrant of recent arrival in the United States, the situation has been different. Although the great majority of this class of immigrants come from the peasant classes and were farmers or farm laborers in their native countries, at least nine-tenths of them upon their arrival in the United States have become wage-earners in mines and manufacturing establishments, and have formed congested alien colonies in the urban and industrial centers of the East and West.

The condition of affairs has been chiefly due to the fact that unlike the Northern European immigrants of former years, the Southern and Eastern Europeans, have had no permanent interest and do not intend to become permanent settlers in the United States. Their main purpose has been originally to earn money and to return to the existing rates of wages, to live on a basis of minimum cheapness, and after accumulating a competence, to return to their home countries. After residing in the United States for a number of years, however, their original purpose often changes, and they use their savings to buy a farm in their home land. In many cases, also, they are compelled to remain here through force of economic necessity, and through the aid of some philanthropic society, as in the case of the Hebrews, or real estate speculators, they become members of agricultural communities or independent farmers.

These communities of recent immigrants have been established on the abandoned farm lands of New England, the Middle States, on the undeveloped land of the Southern States as well as on the Louisiana sugar plantations and in the rice and cotton sections of Texas. There are several flourishing settlements of Slovaks and Italians in Arkansas. In Missouri there are a few agricultural communities in which Bohemians and Poles are predominant. As the existing tendency is for the Southern and Eastern Europeans to go into agriculture, and as they will undoubtedly furnish the chief source of supply for the farm labor of the future, it will be interesting to ascertain to what success their entrance into agricultural pursuits has thus far been attended.
